SECOND MATE OF STARR IS ACCIDENTLY KILLED

The halibut steamer Starr belonging to the San Juan Fish company, in command of Capt. Hans Odsen, came in this morning with her flag at half mast. They had been fishing about 15 miles S. W. of Coronation island yesterday afternoon and were hoisting the dories aboard. The Second Mate, Harry Hanson, was running the winch and was taking a turn around the Gypsy head with the fall when his feet slipped on the deck and he fell head first onto the gypsy. There were four other men on deck at the time but by the time they could stop the winch the fall had wrapped around his head twice. His neck was fractured and he had a compound fracture of the skull causing instantaneous death. Harry Hanson was well known here as he has been fishing with the schooner Northland all winter. He leaves a father 90 years old and a mother 86, also a little girl. The coroner's jury this morning brought in a verdict of accidental death. The Starr will take the body South tomorrow.
